Policy Statement

This policy is an appendix to the Behaviour Policy; it deals with the policy and practice which informs Parbold Douglas Church of England Academy's use of exclusion. We recognise that pupils who display unacceptable behaviours do not just damage their own education and life chances. They disrupt the life of the school and make it harder for teachers to teach and for other pupils to learn. Accordingly, there may be circumstances in which it is necessary to exclude a pupil formally from the school, either for a fixed period or permanently. It is essential for the good of the whole school community that pupils can be excluded for serious or persistent unacceptable behaviour.

We acknowledge that by law we must have regard to the guidance contained in the DfES document "Exclusion from maintained schools, academies and pupil referral units in England" when making decisions on exclusions and administering exclusion procedures to ensure that our actions are legally sound. This document can be found at:

Aims of the Policy:

- To ensure the safety and well-being of all members of the school community, and
- To maintain an appropriate educational environment in which all can learn and succeed.

Introduction:

The decision to exclude a pupil will be taken in the following circumstances:

- In response to a serious breach of the school's Behaviour Policy
- If allowing the pupil to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the pupil or others in the school.

Exclusion is an extreme sanction and is only administered by the Headteacher (or, in the absence of the Headteacher, the member of the Senior Leadership Team who is acting in that role). Exclusion, whether fixed term or permanent, may be used for any of the following, all of which constitute examples of unacceptable conduct and are infringements of the Behaviour Policy:

- Unacceptable behaviour which has previously been reported and for which the school's sanctions and other interventions have not been successful in modifying the pupil's behaviour;
- Verbal or physical abuse of other pupils or school staff;
- Aggression towards other pupils leading to the possibility of physical or emotional harm;
- Indecent behaviour.

This is not an exhaustive list and there may be other situations where the Headteacher makes the judgment that exclusion is an appropriate sanction.

Permanent exclusion is normally the sanction of last resort and is usually the final step in a process of dealing with disciplinary offences. It is our acknowledgment that as a school we have exhausted all available strategies for dealing with the child.

Exclusion procedure:

- Most exclusions are of a fixed term nature and are of short duration. The DfE regulations allow the Headteacher to exclude a pupil for one or more fixed periods not exceeding 45 school days in any one school year.
- A fixed period exclusion does not have to be for a continuous period. In exceptional cases, usually where further evidence has come to light, a fixed period exclusion may be extended or converted to a permanent exclusion.
- Pupils whose behaviour at lunchtime is disruptive may be excluded from the school premises for the duration of the lunchtime period. In such cases the legal requirements in relation to exclusion, such as the head teacher's duty to notify parents, still apply. Lunchtime exclusions are counted as half a school day for statistical purposes and in determining whether a disciplinary meeting is triggered.
- The Governors have established arrangements to review promptly all permanent exclusions and all fixed term exclusions that would lead to a pupil being excluded for over 15 days in a school term or missing a public examination.
- The Governors have established arrangements to review fixed term exclusions which would lead to a pupil being excluded for over five days but not over 15 days in a school term where a parent has expressed a wish to make representations.
- Following exclusion, parents are contacted immediately where possible. A letter will be sent home (on the same day if possible) giving details of the exclusion and the date the exclusion ends. Parents have a right to make representations to the Governing Body as directed in the letter.
- A return to school meeting may be held following the expiry of the fixed term exclusion and this will involve a member of the Senior Leadership Team and other staff where appropriate.
- During the course of a fixed term exclusion where the pupil is to be at home, parents are advised that the pupil is not allowed on school premises, and that daytime supervision is their responsibility, as parents/guardians. Parents will also be informed of the risk of prosecution if their child is found in public place during the school day.
- Work will be provided by the class teacher for the first 5 days, with alternative provision provided from day 6 from the Local Authority.

Permanent Exclusion:

The decision to exclude a pupil permanently is a serious one and is not taken lightly. There are two main types of situation in which permanent exclusion may be considered:

1. The final, formal step in a concerted process for dealing with disciplinary offences following the use of a wide range of other strategies, which have been used without success. It is an acknowledgement that all available strategies have been exhausted and is used as a last resort. This would include persistent and defiant misbehaviour including bullying (which would include racist or homophobic bullying).
2. When a serious criminal act has been committed, the school will involve the police in any such offence e.g. bringing in an offensive weapon.

As with fixed term exclusions, parents will be informed in writing of the decision to exclude and their right of representation and appeal at a disciplinary committee meeting, to be arranged within 15 school days. Work will be sent home and marked when returned for the first 5 days. From day 6 the local authority are responsible for providing full time alternative educational provision. Where parents dispute the decision of the Governors not to reinstate a permanently excluded pupil, they can ask for this decision to be reviewed by an independent review panel. Where there is an allegation of discrimination (under the Equality Act 2010) in relation to a fixed-period or permanent exclusion, parents can also make a claim to the First-tier

Tribunal (for disability discrimination) or a County Court (for other forms of discrimination). An independent review panel does not have the power to direct the Governors to reinstate an excluded pupil.

General factors the Parbold Douglas Church of England Academy considers before making a decision to exclude:

Exclusion will not be imposed instantly unless there is an immediate threat to the safety of others in the School or the pupil concerned. Before deciding whether to exclude a pupil either permanently or for a fixed period the Headteacher will:

- Ensure appropriate investigations have been carried out;
- Consider all the evidence available to support the allegations taking into account the school policies;
- Allow the pupil to give her/his version of events;
- Check whether the incident may have been provoked;
- Check that all available support has been provided to the pupil.

If the Headteacher is satisfied that on the balance of probabilities the pupil did what he or she is alleged to have done, exclusion will be the outcome. Having made the decision and notified the parents the Headteacher will then inform the Chair of Governors and the Local Authority Exclusions Office by submitting the appropriate form.

Lunchtime Exclusions

A pupil whose behaviour at lunchtime is disruptive may be excluded from the school premises for the duration of the lunchtime period. A lunchtime exclusion is a fixed period exclusion equivalent to one half of a school day and will be treated as such. As in fixed period exclusions, parents/carers have the right to be given information and to take their case to the Discipline Committee. Arrangements should be made for pupils who are entitled to free school meals. This may mean providing a packed lunch. The lunchtime exclusion, as in the case of all fixed term exclusions, should be for a specific period of time and must not be for an indefinite period. The school undertakes a regular review of all lunchtime exclusions in excess of 5 sessions.

The principal legislation to which this policy relates is:

- The Education Act 2002, as amended by the Education Act 2011;
- The School Discipline (Pupil Exclusions and Reviews) (England) Regulations 2012;
- The Education and Inspections Act 2006; and
- The Education (Provision of Full-Time Education for Excluded Pupils) (England) Regulations 2007.

Monitoring

The impact of the policy will be reviewed regularly through careful monitoring of incidents. Termly reports will be made to Governors.
